A budget is a document that shows what the government expects to collect as revenue, what grants it expects to receive, how much it expects to save or borrow, and what the government plans to spend on.

The budget contains details of how the government plans to spend our communal wealth in a fiscal year.

The budget when passed into law is called an Appropriation Law.

In a Edo State, every citizen has the right to know how the communal wealth is being expended in the delivery of public infrastructure and services.
What is a Citizens Budget?

• Grants are one of the government’s sources of capital receipts for funding projects to provide public services, stimulate the economy, and benefit the general public. Grants could be either from foreign or domestic sources and are normally provide for a specific project and set of expenditures. Grants do not need to be paid back after it has been used for the intended project and set of expenditures.

Where will the money go?

Budgeted expenditure shows how the government plans to spend, on behalf of the citizens, according to the resources it manages.

Government plans to spend 56% of the Budget on capital expenditure, while the remaining 44% will be distributed between personnel 18%, overhead 12%, CRF charges 8%, interest payments 6%.
All Ministries, Departments and Agencies (MDAs) fall into one sector.

Each MDA will have an approved budget of recurrent and capital expenditure as part of the overall approved state government budget to run its daily activities as well as carry out projects associated with them respectively.
Expenditure analysis by Sector

Recurrent Expenditure: Refers to recurring payments: wages and salaries for civil servants; overhead costs (electricity bills, purchase of diesel); consolidated revenue account charges.

Capital Expenditure: Capital Expenditure is money spent by government to acquire or build fixed capital assets, land or intangible assets. Projects like the building of schools, hospitals, roads, or buying security equipment. Capital Expenditure is sometimes called "Capex."

The Economic sector has a huge budgeted capital expenditure because of the transportation, Environmental, and other infrastructure projects the Government wants to develop to help your business grow, create jobs and improve the State economy.

The social sector has a huge budget for both Capital and Recurrent Expenditure due to the number of Healthcare and Educational facilities Government wants to renovate and build, and the doctors and teachers it pays to work in these facilities.
